ROYAL CHAMPAGNE

FRANCE

The Royal Champagne Hotel overlooks rolling acres of grapevines and, in the distance, the picturesque town of Épernay, the very beating heart of the champagne region. The hotel has a clean and minimalistic style. It is an elegant combination of practical modernity but with a nod to the extraordinary heritage of the Region.

The interior decoration of the rooms mirror the hotel's lobby for slick, but highly practical simplicity. The bathrooms have vast drencher shower heads, huge tubs and Hermès products. Each room benefits from the magical view out over the Hillside. The Royal Champagne spa oozes serenity with its seemingly endless pool which runs parallel with a row of enormous windows which face out over the unforgettable view.

The hotel has two magnificent restaurants. For the casual diner, looking for a slightly more informal environment then 'Le Bellevue Restaurant' is ideal. For the gourmand who seeks something more intrepid and ornate, the other restaurant, 'Le Royal - Etape Gastronomique' which is set inside a circular dining room flanked by huge paintings of Napoleon's unfortunate ex-lovers, will certainly cut 'le moutarde'. This astounding expression of culinary excellence has already been awarded a Michelin Star, and with good reason.
